WHAT IS IT?

Spacial Anomaly is a multi-author blog site with an emphasis on all things fannish. Our focus is on sharing informative and entertaining articles on genre and niche topics—and we are actively seeking new contributors!

WHAT KIND OF CONTENT WILL I FIND AT SPACIAL ANOMALY?

Some of the topics we cover and are seeking more writers to explore include:

- Reviews of genre television series, films, books, comics, music releases, art exhibitions and video games
- Essays on fandom history and meta discussion of fannish topics.
- Tutorials and how-tos on crafting, writing, cosplay, and building fannish websites.
- Introductions to various musical performers, fandoms, actors and artists.
- Interviews with creative individuals producing genre work.
- Reports from conventions, concerts, and other gatherings.
- Personal stories of individual experiences within fandom.

WHO RUNS SPACIAL ANOMALY?

The website is maintained by sockii, a longtime member of fandom with over a decade of experience in maintaining fannish websites, writing and marketing online content. You can contact her at sockii@spacial-anomaly.com to learn more, or talk to her at MediaWest in the dealers room!

WHY SHOULD I JOIN?

As a contributor to Spacial Anomaly, you will have the opportunity to potentially earn revenue and exposure for yourself in a number of ways:

- AFFILIATE PRODUCT LINKS. You are allowed to include links to whatever affiliate sales programs you may belong to (such as Amazon, AllPosters, CafePress), provided your individual submissions meet our content guidelines. Best of all, you keep 100% of all sales commissions you may generate via your links at Spacial Anomaly. There is no revenue sharing of affiliate commissions, such as you would encounter on other sites such as Squidoo or Zujava.
- PROMOTING YOUR OWN WORK. We encourage writers to use the site to promote their create works elsewhere, such books or fanzines you've published, fanzines, crafts for sale on Etsy or your own website, artwork for sale on deviantART, etc. Just be creative and not spammy—we aren't here just to be a link drop, but to hopefully bring exposure to creative and exciting individuals.
- SHARED ADSENSE REVENUE. If you have your own Google AdSense ID, you will receive 50% of the AdSense revenue generated on the ads within your articles on the site. So the more you contribute, the more potential you have to earn!

CONTENT GUIDELINES

Articles at Spacial Anomaly must be a minimum of 400 words in length. The longer your article, the more affiliate/product links you are allowed to include in your articles as well (additional links per 50 words.) Content must also meet the requirements and guidelines for the Google AdSense Revenue program. Full information is at our website.

There is no required frequency for posting by our contributors. You can post an article a day, once a week, once every few months...however often you feel like it!

Content can be republished from other sites (such as your own livejournal or another website) provided you have first removed the content from that original source.

HOW CAN I JOIN THE WRITING TEAM?

There is a simple application form at the Spacial Anomaly website. Authors applying to become a contributor should be able to share examples of their writing elsewhere: for instance, on a personal blog or other content platform.

You do not need to a working professional in any particular field to be a writer at the site. However, we are looking for people who have something unique to offer and are passionate about the subjects we wish to cover.

A familiarity with the basics of using the WordPress platform is recommended, but we have tutorials on the site for those who need assistance and are happy to provide guidance in getting started.
